StoryBox

A Virtual Reality Workshop

Students USE their mobile devices and laptops to have interactive BEATBOX & Storytelling Workshops.

Take the BORING OUT of Remote LEARNING!

What is Storybox?

The Storybox workshop is a 1 or 2 hour long beatboxing workshop that uses beatboxing and storytelling to explore the imaginative possibilities of the human voice. Students will explore word games and sound games and interact with their classmates within a VR video game learning environment with an engagement that enhances deep communicative and comprehension skills led by a master teacher.

a Master Teaching Artist.

*“A one man sound effects wiz!” ~
The New York Times Ben Brantley*

Drama Desk award-winning Broadway actor Chesney Snow is an internationally acclaimed beatbox theatre artist who specializes in creating extraordinary performances, masterclasses, and workshops for young people throughout the world. Widely recognized as a pioneer of American beatbox culture Snow gained notoriety for his portrayal of Boxman in Broadway's first a cappella musical. He has been inspiring students of all ages for more than 20 years by developing arts curricula for schools, nonprofits, arts centers, prisons and theaters. He has taught workshops and masterclasses at countless schools throughout the country including the Juilliard School, Harvard University, Princeton University, New York University, University of Wisconsin, and for the U.S. Department of State in India, Malaysia, Indonesia and with Create2030 in Bhutan.
